ACTS OF KINDNESS

Could you imagine what the world would be like if no one was kind? I wouldn’t want to live in a world like that. Kindness brings people together and helps to make the world a nice place to live in. To me kindness is being helpful, nice and generous.

One way of being kind is by being helpful. This one time in my life, I saw someone drop all their groceries. I helped them pick up their groceries because the bag ripped. After I helped, they felt happy and thankful. This one time someone helped me when I didn’t have enough money for ice cream and neither did my cousin. This lady said she would pay for us and I felt thankful and happy and so did my cousin. I am kind to my mom by helping her clean and by doing my chores. I clean the dishes after she cooks dinner and help to take out the trash. I can be more kind to my brother by being more patient and helping him to learn things. Being helpful is being kind.

Another way to be kind is to be nice. One time I saw someone who lost their dog. My friend and I were the only ones around and we were at the dog park so we decided to help them find their dog. My friend went up to the person and asked them if they needed help. He asked if we could please help find his dog. We said yes and the person said the dog is brown and black and tall. We all looked in the bushes and didn’t see anything and then we walked around on the sidewalk and saw a tail in a bush. Then we went close to the bush and found their dog and the person was so thankful and happy. We can be nice to our friends by complimenting them. This helps them to feel more confident. We can support them to be their authentic selves and to not be afraid to be different.
Another way of being kind is by being generous. The opposite of generous is greedy. A way to be generous is to help people in need like if they need clothes, water or food. Another way to be generous is if someone is having a bad day, like your parents, you could help them clean the house or make dinner for your family. We can also be generous in your school. If someone needs a pencil or a piece of paper you can give it to them and they would feel thankful. Those are some ways to be generous. If no one was generous in the world a lot of people would feel sad.

Being helpful, nice and generous are three ways that we can make the world more kind. People are happier when everyone is kind to each other. People will smile more and they won't feel alone, sad or depressed. I wish that more people in the world would be more kind.
